From Rabbi Markley

This year, October brings with it our festival of Sukkot. This is a time to celebrate the food gathered from the fall harvest and to head back to the great outdoors one last time before winter, so that we might reconnect with the glory of our natural surroundings. The Torah instructs us: "Mark the fifteenth day of the seventh month, when you have gathered in the yield of your land, you will observe the festival of God for seven days... On the first day you will take the product of hadar trees, branches of palm trees, boughs of leafy trees, and willows of the brook (the four species which make up the lulav and the etrog), and you will rejoice before God... You shall live in booths for seven days... in order that future generations may know that I made the Israelites live in booths when I brought them out of the land of Egypt." (Leviticus 23:39-43)

As we prepare for this year's Sukkot celebrations, I am struck by the stark contrast in the building projects that we now undertake as a Temple Beth Shalom community. For in this season of erecting our sukkot, we are also expanding our congregational conversations about the next steps needed for the construction of a synagogue building that meets our growing needs...our mikdash... our sacred space, which allows us to dwell together as a community and invites God to dwell among us. While the design and assembly of our sukkot and our temple home are both holy endeavors, there is much that differentiates these processes from one another.

As we set about constructing our sukkot, we seek to craft a structure that is, by its very nature and design, temporary and fleeting. In contrast, the temple home that we now begin to envision together is meant to be long lasting – a TBS home which meets the needs of our community today and of our congregation decades from now. The sukkah is a remembrance of our people's transience. It is meant to inspire memories of homelessness and wandering. This is distinctly at odds with the conversations now taking place amongst our members who want to put down new roots, establishing a site that will sustain us, embrace us, and will be our home – a fixed oasis and sanctuary from life's frenetic pace. Likewise, our obligation during this festival is not to build a sukkah (though that's a wonderful and engaging ritual for so many). The mitzvah is simply to "dwell in" a sukkah...to spend time there whether you've contributed to its construction or not. Again, a stark contrast – for we know that the building of Temple Beth Shalom's future cannot come to be unless we all share in this sacred construction effort. Only if we each contribute what we are able to share can we, as a community, craft a home that reflects the successes of our past and our vision for the future. We are thrilled to have already conducted numerous parlor meetings to engage TBS members in this process, and if you have not yet been able to participate in one, please let us know. We want for you, alongside your friends and neighbors, to lend your voice to these conversations as you engage with this important and exciting process.

There are many traditional interpretations about why we are supposed to take up the four species – the lulav and the etrog – as part of our Sukkot celebration. One midrash (rabbinic interpretation) suggests that these are merely symbols for parts of ourselves. The palm branch represents the human spine – erect but not rigid, the myrtle our eyes, the willow our lips, and the etrog our hearts. As we begin both of our sacred building endeavors – both our sukkot and our temple home – may we each be able to stand upright, proud of what we have built. May our lips speak with excitement and anticipation about the blessings that these structures can bring into our lives. May our hearts be so inspired that they move our hands to join in the building efforts, and may our eyes bear witness to the fruits of this shared labor. Moadim L'simchah – May these days of covenantal construction be joyous ones for us all!

Celebrating Shabbat Together!

We will be celebrating Shabbat at 7:15 pm on the first two Friday evenings of each month; during the final two (or three) Friday evenings of each month our services will begin earlier at 6:15 pm. It is our hope that our new model will enable even more people to come and be part of our weekly Shabbat celebration. We believe that it offers a new opportunity for those who wish to enjoy a relaxing Shabbat dinner following services, for older adults for whom a later evening service is prohibitive, and for families with young children with an earlier bedtime.

In content, our services will remain as spirited and meaningful as they have been and will continue to last approximately an hour and fifteen minutes each week, regardless of start time. "Children's Activities" will continue to be offered during the weeks that have 6:15 pm services. And our very successful "Simchat Shabbat" services will remain on the first Friday of the month.

During those weeks when services begin at 7:15 pm, we will conclude our evening with a festive oneg of sweets, music, and schmoozing. And during those weeks when services begin at 6:15 pm, our evening will begin at 5:30 pm (for those choosing/able to come) with a "pre-neg" – a buffet of fruit, vegetables, wine, cheese, and pita to enjoy before services begin. For our children, we will offer pizza bites and/or other such light dinner nosh options.

A Guide to Administrative Support at TBS

One question I hear often is the desire to better understand the administrative structure of the temple front office. In our ongoing work of supporting our growing congregation, we have created a new structure to fulfill our community's administrative needs. Below you find a listing of helpful information.

PEOPLE:

Sandy Hain (who we celebrate as she begins her 18th - 'chai' - year of service at TBS) is our "Director of Facilities and Event Administration." Tiziana Getz (who is celebrating her "Bat Mitzvah - 13th" year of service at TBS) is our Administrative Assistant.

Last March, we welcomed Devra Feshbach-Meriney as our community's first-ever Controller.

ROLES:

As we look forward to years of continued success and vitality in our community, it is essential that our TBS administrative team (Sandy, Tiziana, Devra, and I) provides the administrative leadership and support that will enable us to realize our community's Mission and Vision. In order to bring this vision forward, we have created the following administrative structure to support congregants, clergy, educators, and staff:

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR:

Strategy and Administrative

Leadership: As Executive Director, I am responsible for the overall administrative structure of the congregation and work closely with the Senior Clergy, Board and other Temple leadership to ensure that the congregations' strategy is made real. Included is a very active role in our TBS "Mikdash" ("sacred space") project.

Finance: My role as Executive Director includes building and maintaining multiple year financial models so that we plan appropriately. I also work closely with the areas of development and endowment.

Technology: All areas of temple technology (software as well as hardware) fall under my oversight. I led the effort to select and implement our new Temple administrative software ("Chaverware"), and will be leading the effort in the coming year to bring forward the congregant web access for forms and membership data ("Chaverweb"). I also keep an eye on technology trends to ensure that we are making the best use of our technological resources.

HR/Personnel Practice: As the senior HR officer for the congregation, my role includes evaluating personnel practices as well as organizing benefit programs. I also directly supervise the other members of the office staff (as well as Rachel Block).

Communications: This area (broadly) falls under my leadership. This includes the production of the TBS "This Week" and Shabbat Shalom emails, the Temple's presence on social media platforms, and other outreach.

DIRECTOR OF FACILITIES AND EVENT ADMINISTRATION:

Event Support: For anything involving the planning of your event here at the Temple, from working with room setups, custodians, caterers, or contracts for function space, please contact Sandy Hain. Event support includes outside organizations who may want to rent TBS space. Of course, this also includes all of the work to support our worship experiences here at TBS, from Shabbat services (Friday night and Saturday morning) to our High Holy Day and Festival services.

Calendar: Committees and arms looking to offer workshops, hold meetings, or other events should send their calendar requests to Sandy Hain. Sandy also coordinates the publication of the calendar in the Scroll and on our atrium screens. She works to ensure that our (increasingly busier) congregation has room in our (increasingly busier) building.

Facilities Management: Sandy manages the regular use of our facilities as well, including small repairs, day to day management of our custodians, and regular upkeep and maintenance of the building.

ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANT:

Telephone and Office Reception:

Tiziana is the voice you most often hear when you call the Temple. She answers the main office phone (sometimes managing four simultaneous ringing telephone lines) and also welcomes you to the front office.

Donation Receipt and Acknowledgement: When you make a donation to a Temple fund, Tiziana provides the letter of acknowledgement which is sent to your honoree. She also records this information for our monthly Scroll, and ensures that this information is entered on your account.

Shabbat Preparation: Tiziana coordinates our Shabbat pulpit officers, produces our weekly Shabbat Flyer, and produces our weekly Kaddish List.

Yahrzeit Management: In addition, Tiziana manages the entry of Yahrzeit information into our computer system and produces letters to congregants to identify upcoming memorial observances.

Mailings and Postage: While all of us assist in the preparation of large congregational mailings (including the monthly mailing of the Scroll), Tiziana takes the lead in this effort.

CONTROLLER:

Producing Monthly Statements: Devra, as our Controller, is responsible for posting payments from members (and others) as well as producing our monthly statements.

Payroll and Accounts Payable: Devra manages the payment of our bills to our outside vendors as well as making sure that we pay our employees. She also coordinates reimbursement to committee members and others for expenditures on behalf of the Temple.

Fiscal Controls: This also falls under Devra's management. Included in this area are functions related to management of the Temple's fiscal health. This includes maintaining our fiscal records, working with auditors, and managing our financial accounts.

Budget Management: Devra works with me (as Executive Director) to lead the annual budget process (working closely with lay leadership). We collect budget requests, work to understand and prioritize the budget, and once it is passed by the congregation, manage the budget with the department leadership.

Of course, none of this could happen without the tremendous support of our lay leadership (including our administrative committees – such as Safety and Security, House, Personal Practices, Communication, Finance, Development, Investments, etc. – and the participation of our Board including our VP for Administration, Jeff Shapiro, and our HR Advisor, Rich Atkind).

I am grateful and feel blessed to be working with such a dedicated group of staff and lay leaders. TBS is indeed fortunate that we have the support and leadership of many talented individuals who give so much of themselves to our community. They are the true unsung heroes of our administrative structure.

If you have any questions about this overview or would like any additional information, please feel free to be in touch with me directly. I can be reached at 781-444-0077 x21 or at dbarkowitz@tbsneedham.org.

New Format

This year you may notice some changes to the Scroll. Rather than hear from everyone each month, we are focusing our efforts on featuring individual voices. Each month, you will hear from either Rabbi Perlman or Rabbi Markley, either TBS President Michael Bailit or Executive Director Daniel Barkowitz, and from one of our three Directors of Learning (Lauren Bohne, Ellen Dietrick or Allison Gutman). We will also feature occasional updates from the leadership of our Mikdash ("Sacred Space") effort. We are hopeful that this new format will provide you timely updates from a smaller number of columnists, as well as providing an opportunity for many members of TBS leadership to write to you in the Scroll. Please feel free to share your feedback on the Scroll directly with Daniel Barkowitz, Executive Director.

Sisterhood

L'Shana Tovah! The Sisterhood board wishes you all a happy, healthy and peaceful new year.

As we are well underway into another great Sisterhood year I would like to thank the officers of the Sisterhood board and recognize each for her efforts and for filling an essential position that makes this organization possible. Marsha Moller, our 1st VP, is always looking ahead with a focus on Long Range Planning and Leadership Development. Marsha's initiatives will continue to steer us successfully into the future. Gail Lustig is our new Treasurer this year. Gail is organized and technologically savvy. She will keep our budget healthy and our finances in order with her eye for detail. Karen Zeiger, after taking a few years off, is serving once again as our VP of Membership. Karen will be reaching out to prospective members and welcoming our new members as they find their way into our Sisterhood family. Marcy Hirschen and Aimee Bierman as Co-VP's of Programming are busy throughout the year as they help guide all of our committee chairs through the planning and coordination of each program. Susan Patkin will continue to take and keep our meeting minutes as Recording Secretary. We are able to conduct the business of Sisterhood knowing we can look back even as we move ahead. Jen Green, one of our busiest board members as Corresponding Secretary, sends out all our email correspondence, our notes of condolence and congratulations, and keeps us updated on all the email communications from WRJ. Elissa Grebber as Membership Secretary receives all of our membership forms, updates our database and keeps track of our RSVP's for many events. On behalf of the entire Sisterhood community, I would like to thank the entire board for their year-round dedication, commitment and tireless hard work.

I am so grateful for each and every member of Sisterhood because, regardless of her position or level of involvement, we are all making a contribution to this wonderful group. Hopefully you have received the membership information packet for this year. If you have not already done so, please make the decision to join Sisterhood and return your membership forms in time to attend our Fall Membership Dinner on October 18. Please contact Karen Zeiger at emkjzei@aol.com for membership information.

Adults Become B'nei Mitzvah

On Saturday, June 16, eleven adult Temple members became B'nei Mitzvah before nearly 300 family members and friends. The eight women and three men read from the Torah and gave a D'var Torah.

The Temple usually offers this B'nei Mitzvah class every two years. "While the vast majority of Jewish 13-year olds today have the opportunity to become B'nei Mitzvah with their peers, this was not always the case. This is especially true of women who didn't have the same exposure to egalitarian Judaism," said Rabbi Michele Lenke. "TBS has offered the Adult B'nei Mitzvah class not only to meet the needs of the women in our community, but also for those who want to take their Judaism seriously and formally accept the commandments as their own. Past participants in the class include both born Jews and Jews by choice, secular Jews, cultural Jews, those with a religious school background and those without. To take on the commandments as adults carries a heavier load of responsibility and commitment for the individual and to their community."

The diverse class included several who had been Temple members for over 40 years and other younger members whose children are currently in the Religious School or are newer members. Their motivations for becoming B'nei Mitzvah were varied. For me, it was about achieving equality as a Jewish woman. Becoming a Bat Mitzvah was not an option when I grew up in a conservative city in Canada where only boys became Bar Mitzvah.

For Marilyn Brooks, the challenge of learning Hebrew and chanting the Torah showed her that she could go outside of her comfort zone and succeed, an example she wanted to show her grandchildren. Adam Blumenstein had rejected the opportunity to become a Bar Mitzvah when he was young, but as an adult he embraced the chance to do so as his children were also studying in the Religious School. "I felt that it wasn't enough for me to be just an observer of their experiences. I wanted to be an active participant in each of their journeys, so I decided this was the perfect time to begin my own studies," he said in his D'var Torah. Seth Salinger had to reach back several generations to establish his connection to this Jewish tradition. Daryl Frischling said the class was "one of the most important and transformative journeys of (his) life."

The class met weekly for eight months. During the first hour of each class, the students learned Hebrew and how to chant their torah portions with Hebrew teacher Sheira Rosenfield. During the second hour they discussed the Siddur and Judaica with Rabbi Michele Lenke. Sheira said, "The devotion and dedication that the class put into learning their material was something to behold. More importantly, while they were learning, something started to happen in the room. There was a closeness that was forming between them and a level of support that was wonderful to see. The class created a 'sukkat shalom,' a peaceful dwelling place for each other, and in that sacred place they were able to reach out and learn and share the feelings of what the journey meant to them."

As a B'nei Mitzvah project, the class installed plants on the hillside by the Children's Center. In a token of their appreciation for the class, the students asked their guests to make contributions to Temple funds in lieu of gifts.

In their D'var Torah comments, many of the students also spoke about the close bond they had formed with each other. Jane Scheibel Spigle said, "Words truly do not do justice to the strength of the bond we have formed. We learned Hebrew together. We learned to chant together. We discussed together. We cheered each other on, felt safe together."

Several students look forward to their improved ability to follow and participate in services at the Temple, now that they can read Hebrew. Sharon Salinger, who participates often in Saturday morning Torah Study, proudly ended her D'var Torah with, "Ani Koret et Ha'Torah. I read Torah."

Garden Club

Essential Dates:

Monday, October 15 - 7:00 p.m.
Board Meeting - Garden Club Room

Monday, October 22 - 7:00 p.m.
Program: "Make Politics Work",
Simon Hall

*"Bright yellow, red and orange
The leaves come down in hosts;
The trees are Indian Princes
But soon they'll turn to ghosts".*

On Monday, October 22, at 7:00 p.m. in Simon Hall, Garden Club members will present a Program called, "Make Politics Work". Members will work in teams to create a floral design incorporating this theme. Regardless of your political affiliation, come join the fun. The evening provides an opportunity to rekindle old friendships and establish new ones.

To enhance your skills, there will be a hands-on workshop for beginning and intermediate flower arrangers at Elm Bank in Wellesley on October 16, from 10:00 a.m. until noon. This class is worthwhile and informative.

For an interactive design experience with outstanding Massachusetts designers, come listen to their lectures and observe them demonstrating flower arranging at Elm Bank, Wellesley on October 29 from 10:00 a.m. until noon. This is an enriching experience.

On October 25, there will be a GCFM Fall Conference. It will be held at the Andover Country Club in Andover. Please mark your calendar and plan to attend this exciting event.

There is something in October that draws one and all . . . come to our Garden Program, you're sure to have a ball.

We are looking forward to seeing you.

Help Support the Steps to Success Mentoring Program at Needham High School

This fall, join your friends and neighbors at the third annual Needham Steps Up fundraising benefit to support Steps to Success, a mentoring program for Needham High School students from low-income families. The event will take place on Monday, October 22 at 6:30 p.m. at the Sheraton Needham Hotel.

Past fundraisers have allowed us to admit several new students to the mentoring program. To continue providing services to these students throughout their high school careers, and to enroll more students in need, we must raise additional funds.

Each student in the Steps to Success program is matched with a caring, dedicated Needham High staff member who becomes the student's mentor for three years. Mentors meet frequently with the students and guide them through a wide range of experiences—from course selection, to navigating social issues, to visiting local museums, to getting involved in the community. Mentors help students set goals, monitor progress and approach their teachers when academics are challenging. The mentors also provide critical assistance with the college application process.

You can help Needham Steps Up continue its efforts to close the achievement gap in Needham by participating in the upcoming fundraiser. Come enjoy dinner, a silent auction and a short presentation by Marty Martinez, Mass Mentoring President and CEO. Please join your community for a fun evening while supporting an important educational initiative. To order tickets, make a donation or for more information, please visit our new website at www.needhamstepsup.org.

Brotherhood

Shalom! With the High Holy Days now behind us, the pace of life is full speed ahead.

However, this month the Brotherhood offers you an opportunity to slow down, get refreshed and recharge your batteries. Our 7th Annual Brotherhood Retreat will take place October 20-21 at the Yarmouth Resort. Our Rabbi Todd inspired theme, Jewish Stuff - Just for Men (things they could never teach you in Hebrew School), promises to be one of the most interesting retreat learning experiences yet. This will be our second year at the Yarmouth Resort, with a delicious 3 course dinner Saturday night right next door at the Yarmouth House. Last year's homemade Sunday morning breakfast of eggs and waffles prepared by Brotherhood President Jim Winterman was such a big hit, we have asked Jim for a repeat performance. Of course he said yes! This will be a much talked about event that you won't want to miss. Please see registration information below, and/or contact Marty Goldberg at mjg95@verizon.net.

Now that we have shamelessly plugged the Brotherhood Retreat, we do want to take this opportunity to thank all the Brotherhood men and TBS members who served as ushers, helped set up chairs, and organized and participated along with the parking and safety and security attendants at this year's High Holy Day services. These volunteers make TBS what it is—a special warm and caring community - Todah Rabah!

Upcoming events that we are sure you will want to add to your calendars are The Leroy Davis Family Sports Breakfast on Sunday, November 4 and the Annual Community Blood Drive on Sunday, December 16. There will be more information to follow on both.

The Brotherhood proudly serves the men (and women) of Temple Beth Shalom. We strive to create programming to stimulate the mind, nourish the soul, and sometimes just flat out have fun! If you are interested in participating and/or helping out at events, you will find the Brotherhood a warm and welcoming group. If you are interested in more information, please contact Jim Winterman at jdwinterman@gmail.com or contact any of the board members listed here.

We look forward to seeing you at these events!

Social Action

Recently, I reached out to several people and asked if they had thoughts to include in a Social Action article for the Scroll. I received this from Nancy Krieger, a Trustee on our Board and an active member of our community. In her words Social Action is the... "hands, hearts, talents, passions, activism, compassion, and a place for everyone - all members of the TBS community to fulfill their dreams - building a caring community and replenishing their sense of connection and accomplishment in repairing the world we live in." I think this so beautifully describes Social Action at TBS.

Every year our community rallies around a number of signature causes, including the High Holy Day Food Drive to benefit the Needham Community Council. This food drive provides critical support for our local food pantry. The participation from our community is nothing short of amazing and I would encourage everyone to remember to donate nutritious, non-perishable foods to the Needham Community Council all year round—not just at holiday time.

In December, the TBS community will also pitch in for Project Ezra, a day of cooking, packaging, and delivering a Christmas dinner to many in our community who might otherwise go without.

In the spring a large contingent from TBS will gather at the Relay for Life to raise money and awareness, honor survivors and remember those we have lost to cancer. Similarly, Tikkun Olam Day will offer the opportunity for groups of energetic people to work on various causes that speak to their hearts.

These events bring together large contingents of dedicated souls from our community, united in common action, perfectly depicting the description of social action offered by Nancy.

I also want to highlight three focus initiatives for our community in the months to come. Each of these causes offers multiple ways for individuals and families to get involved and I encourage you to read the weekly e-bulletin for timely information about upcoming projects.

The first is Jewish Family & Children's Service Family Table, which is the only kosher food pantry serving our area. Our congregation makes a remarkable commitment to collect 100 cans of tuna fish and 25 cans of salmon every month to help feed the hungry in the Jewish community (and beyond), so please remember to drop a can in the bin in the lobby whenever you are able.

The second is the Greater Boston Jewish Coalition for Literacy whose mission is to foster literacy and help students improve their reading skills.

Literacy is a pillar of our faith and essential for our futures. We look forward to developing a corps of consciousness around this model of sharing in literacy access.

Finally, we look forward to supporting Circle of Hope, an organization dedicated to helping those in need by collecting, sorting and distributing new and gently used clothing, linens and toiletries for children, women, and men.

If you've been involved in any of these causes in the past, thank you. And if you want to join in, please do. We're always looking to welcome new hands and hearts!

TBS CareerConnections Event Back on the Career Track: Top Strategies for Returning to Work November 14 at 7:30 p.m. in Simon Hall

TBS CareerConnections is excited to present our first workshop of the year featuring Carol Fishman Cohen, co-author of the acclaimed career reentry strategy book, Back on the Career Track, and co-founder of iRelaunch, who will present career reentry strategies for those looking to return to work.

Wednesday, November 14
Temple Beth Shalom

To RSVP for this free event, please contact:
Sheryl Hirsch at sherylhirsch@rcn.com.

Carol's company, iRelaunch, is bringing their 15th iRelaunch Return to Work Conference to Bentley University in Waltham on November 29. Visit www.returntoworkconference.com to register and for more information. Visit www.irelaunch.com for success stories and career reentry resources.

As part of Temple Beth Shalom's Chesed/Caring activities, TBS CareerConnections provides opportunities for members to build their professional networks, and offers assistance through workshops and one-on-one consultations to those looking for employment or considering a career/lifestyle change.

Learning

Gaga for Ga Ga!

It seems that the world has finally caught on to the long held secret of Jewish sleep away camp kids everywhere—the game of Ga Ga! This is a fast paced ball game, played in a court (referred to as a pit), and is a distant cousin of the well-known dodge ball. Thought to be an Israeli game, many of us learned the rules at Jewish overnight camps, like the URJ's Eisner and Crane Lake. Imagine our excitement when the New York Times printed an article about this well-kept secret: Jewish Camps Spawn a Playground Hit! For more on the wave of Ga Ga giddiness sweeping the nation, you can go to <http://www.nytimes.com/2012/07/19/us/gaga-playground-game-is-popular-at-camps.html>.

The beauty of Ga Ga is that it appeals to all ages—just ask any of the TBS teens or staff who attend our Kallot (retreats) at the URJ Eisner Camp! There, Ga Ga is not just an activity, it is a way of life. If you are in 8-12th grade and want to put your Ga Ga skills to the test, join us for our Fall Sha'arim Kallah (retreat) November 9-11. But be warned . . . you might have to be willing to take on a Rabbi! Check out these awesome shots of our teens playing their favorite game.

Though many people gear up to work on their yards and gardens in the spring, fall is actually an ideal time for yard work. Here are a few ideas for bringing your garden to life in the fall:

Compost the leaves: Instead of bagging the leaves and leaving them out with the trash, consider collecting them and composting them to create nutrient-rich, organic soil that will be ready for use by the spring.

Fertilize organically: When preparing your soil for next year, add organic, slow-release fertilizers that will help enhance your soil over time. These fertilizers are made of natural materials, contain vital nutrients to help your plants grow, and prevent plants from getting nitrogen.

Plant trees: By the time autumn rolls around, summer heat waves are long past, rainfall is usually more plentiful, and new trees, bushes and flowers have a greater chance of surviving than they would if they were planted during a hotter season. Choose species native to your area as well as those that are drought and pest resistant and can grow in the kind of soil and amount of sunlight available on your property.

Attend the Synagogue Council's Unity Mission to New York City ... and be transformed for life!

The Synagogue Council of Massachusetts' nationally acclaimed Unity Mission, now in its 26th year, will be held on Sunday and Monday, November 11-12 in New York. This program brings together leaders of congregations and minyanim from throughout Massachusetts for a one-of-a-kind experience that will move you, uplift you and alter the way you perceive yourself and your fellow Jews for all time! Along with a diverse group of committed synagogue leaders, students from area schools, and delegates from Haifa, you will meet, face to face, with prominent national and international Jewish luminaries. Highlights include visits to seminary galleries, libraries and chapels, enabling you to view - up close - the sacred spaces, treasured archives and artifacts preserved and housed at each of the Unity Mission's itinerary sites.

For further information, visit www.synagoguecouncil.org, or call 617-244-6506.

On Tuesday, December 25, Temple Beth Shalom will once again join hands with the Needham Community Council to provide Christmas dinners.

Each year the need seems to increase, so please help us;
we cannot do this Mitzvah without you.

Volunteers are needed to:

- * carve the turkeys * assemble the dinners
- * deliver the dinners * bake "finger desserts"
